

People work very hard.They need to have a place of peace when they finish working.